

Task Allocation Lab

Take one of the formulations of the task allocation problem from the exercise and implement three different strategies for solving the allocation problem. Do a small empirical evaluation by comparing the strategies on a small set of examples (they can be randomly generated).

Send your evaluation together with the code to your local WASP examiner.